

Personnel Development

Theory and practice go hand-in-hand

Looking for an employer who not only invests in the company but also in its employees? We know what knowledge bring about.

With the VP Bank FORUM, we have developed a training and continuing education program that takes into account the differing needs of our employees.

Throughout the year, we offer courses and seminars that center on the goals, culture and values of the VP Bank Group.

Employees who perform management functions are guided in a targeted manner toward the qualifications they need in their leadership role and familiarized with the VP Bank philosophy.

Principles of the way we go about the development of personal skills

Encouragement of young talent

- Level-consistent entry into the professional world

Employee development

- Fostering and supporting individual desires for continuing education
- Organizing attractive in-house courses and seminars
- On-the-job training by means of multi-month foreign deployment within the Group

Management development

- Early identification of personal potential
- Targeted guidance of management candidates into their leadership role

Why VP Bank?
